

A visit to the new Anderson Sinclair showroom in Southfields could provide all the home inspiration you need

ANDERSON SINCLAIR DESIGN is an independent company which designs, supplies and fits quality kitchens, bedrooms and home offices. The company offers a full service, from design conception to installation, building work and installation of audio visuals. Not being tied with any one product manufacturer means Anderson Sinclair's clients have a huge range of options available to them regardless of the size of project or budget.

With a showroom in Loughton, Anderson Sinclair needed a presence in south-west London that would cater for an increasing client base, so the Southfields showroom was opened in July 2008. On display are sleek and innovative appliances from Gorenje including the Pininfarina designed refrigerator – a stylish free-standing fridge freezer which features an interactive touch sensitive control screen that gives information on food storage, energy saving and even gives recipes!

You will also find bespoke veneered units and an impressive centre-piece made up of additional bespoke units, a stylish Gorenje wine cooler and a nonporous, heat-resistant work surface, manufactured by DuPont that has been certified as kosher.

There is also a wide range of samples for worktops on show from Silestone, who manufacture a range of antibacterial surfaces that come in a variety of vibrant and exciting colours.

Anderson Sinclair can supply products from top name manufacturers such as Neff, Siemens, Bosch, Miele, Sub-Zero and Gorenje who, incidentally, have awarded the Southfields showroom with its 'Centre of Excellence' award. Resident interior designer Leigh-Ann Steele is also based in the Southfields showroom, and will work with you and inject your project with her vast knowledge of design to get the look you need.

Staff at Anderson Sinclair believe that if their clients can dream it, they can create it. As a family business, the company is proud of its loyal client and supplier base. By constantly thinking 'outside the box', Anderson Sinclair can be flexible in its approach, so, whether you want a classic, contemporary or super modern look in your home, their staff can make that happen.

To redefine your home with quality and style, contact them or visit the stunning new showroom in SW18 for a free, no obligation consultation.
